

The Antioch Library Friends appreciates your donations! Without them, they would not be able to support the library to the extent they currently do. The Antioch Library Friends uses the proceeds from resold donations to support the library's programs and services. With this in mind, as you are gathering your donations, please remember the library and the Friends only accept those items that are able to be resold.

Some examples of items that the Antioch Library Friends cannot accept are:

- Textbooks more than 5 years old
- Cassettes, LPs, 8-tracks
- Bibles
- Reader's Digest condensed books
- Encyclopedias
- Magazines
- Coloring Books
- Workbooks
- Computer books more than 5 years old
- Puzzles
- Items in poor condition including odiferous, wet, moldy, torn, vermin ridden or those stored in damp places.

Again, this is because the Friends cannot resell such items and if they are dropped off, the library has to pay to dispose of them.

Thank you for supporting your library through your donation to the Antioch Library Friends.
