

Libraries Lead National Library Week April 8 - 14, 2018

National Library Week is celebrating its 60th anniversary in 2018. Since 1958, the American Library Association has helped raise awareness for libraries and all they have to offer, encouraging patrons to read, engage, and make use of all of our continuously expanding resources. Libraries have evolved considerably from the days of books and knowledgeable guides.

Today's libraries are still trained in guiding readers, locating sought after reference answers, and keeping us happily ensconced in our next favorite read. However, they now also provide the latest in entertainment through movies, TV series, Netflix, Roku, video games, music, streaming video and more. They offer technology such as netbooks, hotspots, ebook readers, telescopes, wifi and internet access for free to anyone with a library card and can even help troubleshoot your personal devices. They connect you with community resources when you're in need, provide programming to educate, enlighten, and entertain young and old alike, assist in employment seeking, provide free access to expensive databases, offer meeting and work spaces, and present hands-on activities on site to socialize or play.

There's so much your library has to offer, so please join us this year in celebrating National Library Week 2018: Libraries Lead. Be sure to pencil in a visit the week of April 8-14 to enjoy a celebration of libraries and all that they do! Browse displays of library achievements plus staff interests and favorites, and share why you love your library to enter to win a fantastic prize!

Free Comic Book Day

As the name implies, Free Comic Book Day is a single day when participating comic book specialty shops across North America and around the world give away comic books absolutely free to anyone who comes into their shops. So what does the Antioch Library have to do with this day? We get to give comic books away too! Once again Jay's Comics out of Grayslake, Illinois has partnered with the APLD to place our order for the comics we will give away that day.

And there will be even more fun here at the library. Dress as your favorite comic book character for a chance to win a prize basket filled with goodies and copies of all the top comic books for the 2018 Free Comic Book Day. Plus, have fun with green screen photography, create a comic page and more!

Direct from the Director

Jennifer Drinka
Library Director

In a recent meeting at the Antioch Village Hall, local business owners and residents applauded the Antioch Public Library District's continuing efforts to evolve in the face of huge societal shifts. The key thing about the Library is, we change. When you compare the Library of twenty years ago to the Library of today, so much has changed, yet we have stayed true to the heart of what the Library means to the community. What defines the Library in the past, present and future is friendly staff, shared resources and a community space. Whether that means checking out books or wi-fi hotspots, quiet seating by the newspapers or high-tech play opportunities for children, the Library keeps a finger on the pulse of the community and continuously changes to meet current and future needs.

One of the needs being addressed is making the Library welcoming and accessible to people of all abilities. Prior to embarking on this past fall's parking lot renovation project, we learned that the existing ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) stalls directly in front of the entrance were not ADA compliant. While they were conveniently close to the entrance, the slope of the parking lot in that area far exceeded the allowable amount to be considered accessible for people with disabilities. In order to be considered ADA compliant, a parking stall has to have 2% or less of a grade. The existing ADA stalls were closer to 9%. We also discovered that the Library's entrance ramp was not ADA compliant, as there was not a flat landing (2% or less grade) at the entrance.

With this twofold problem, the Board of Trustees, Library staff and engineers from Gewalt Hamilton Associates, Inc., brainstormed a creative solution to add three ADA stalls to the southwest corner of the parking lot and construct an accessible sidewalk, which would connect to the Library's covered veranda. Phase one of the project was completed this past fall and phase two will be completed this spring. The second phase of the project involves adding a new automatic door to the western wall of the entryway. This will provide an accessible way into the Library for people who park in an ADA stall and enter the Library by way of the veranda. What is so exciting about this project is that the new door will not replace the existing doors, but will rather enhance them. This will make the veranda both an accessible and welcoming entrance to the Library.

While the new ADA stalls are now ADA compliant, we recognized that they were further from the entrance than the previous stalls had been. You may have noticed the "Reserved for Persons with Limited Mobility" parking stalls where the previous ADA stalls had been. We are happy to see that many people are utilizing this new feature and are happy to have come up with a solution that is both accessible and convenient.

Thank you for your patience throughout our efforts in this multi-faceted project to make the library an accessible and welcoming place for all.

LIBRARY FRIENDS

Did you get something for Christmas you cannot use? The Antioch Library Friends are looking for donations of like-new items to offer in their monthly silent auctions. The proceeds from these auctions benefit the Library. Please contact Amy Blue (ablue@apl.d.info) for more information.

Antioch Library Friends monthly silent auctions are displayed in two glass cabinets. One sits directly outside the door to the Library Friends Used Book Shop. Items are listed on a clipboard that hangs on the wall behind the cabinet. The other glass cabinet is inside the Library Friends Used Book Shop against the window. Items for this case are listed on a clipboard that sits on top. Items change monthly and a list of the months offerings are listed on the Library Friends web page located on the library website.

From Obscurity to Greatness: Illinois and Lincoln 1830 to 1861

Thursday, April 26 at 7:00 p.m.

On January 19, 2018 the Antioch Public Library District was informed that Illinois Humanities had agreed to award us an Illinois Humanities: Road Scholarships Speakers Bureau grant. The following is an outline of the upcoming event made possible by this grant.

The presentation consists of a first-person portrayal of Abraham Lincoln in period dress, speaking with the audience about his own life and times, in particular about his Illinois years. Mr. Lincoln tells the story of how both he and Illinois rose from obscurity to greatness between the years 1830 to 1861. Major themes and topics include: the Northwest Ordinance and Territory; Statehood; the Lincoln family arrives in Illinois; the “Sucker State”; the New Salem years; the Black Hawk War; settling and taming the prairie; A. Lincoln, attorney-at-law; the move to Springfield; the Illinois & Michigan Canal; the Todd family: Springfield aristocracy; romance and marriage; the Eighth Judicial Circuit; the slavery question; abolitionists; the Dred Scott decision; the “House Divided” speech; the Lincoln-Douglas debates; the election of 1860; secession; the Lincoln family’s farewell; Illinois during Lincoln’s Presidency and the Civil War.

This program will take place in the Eide Room on the lower level of the library. Preregistration is suggested but not required.

TEEN PROGRAMS

TEEN TECH WEEK™ | MARCH 4–10, 2018

Create a Comic

Monday, March 5 at 6:00 p.m.

Head on down to the computer lab and we will walk you through our comic book making software, Comic Life 3. Create a page and we'll print it for you!

Green Screen Fun

Tuesday, March 6 at 6:00 and 7:00 p.m.

The green screen will be set up with the camera ready to take some shots. Then put yourself in the background of your choice! Bring your friends and some props if you like. Remember not to wear green or you'll disappear!

3D Print Your Face

Thursday, March 8 at 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.

Bring a downloadable picture of yourself (or we will take a picture of you here) and we will assist you in putting it in a 3D printable file. We will print it for you to pick up at a later date! (Tip: when you take your picture, keep the background plain.)

LED Throwies

Saturday March 10 at 1:00 p.m.

All you need is about 10 minutes, some tape, an LED light, a battery, and a magnet. Put that all together and you get an LED Throwie! We provide all the materials, you just need to stop by and make it! Once it's made, you can stick it to anything metal. Stop in between 1-3 p.m. to make your throwie, but please sign up so we have enough supplies for everyone!

Teen Photo Contest

March 1 through March 31

Teens ages 12-18 are invited to enter the third annual Teen Photo Contest. The contest categories are: Macro/Close Up, Black & White Architecture, and Digital Manipulation. Entries will be accepted

March 1 through March 31 and will be displayed on the main floor of the library. Zee of Zshots Photography will judge the entries. Patrons will be given the opportunity to vote for a People's Choice Award April 1 through April 15. Winners will be announced April 21.

All entries must be submitted as a .jpg file suitable for printing to teenread@apld.info. An agreement form must be completed by each individual entering the contest. The agreement form is available at www.apld.info/teen and at the adult reference desk at the library. Please put "Photo Contest Entry" in the subject line and include name, contact information, photo title and category in the body of the email. If entering separate categories, please send separate emails for each category. Teens may enter up to three photos. All entries must be shot by the entrant. Photos must be appropriate for the general public.

TEEN PROGRAMS

Teen events are for ages 12-19 and require registration unless otherwise noted.
We encourage teens to register early. Minimum numbers are often required for programs to run.
